ANNUAL REVIEW OF ADDITIONAL VOLUNTARY CONTRIBUTIONS (AVCs)

1 April 2024 - 31 March 2025

WELCOME TO THE ANNUAL REVIEW OF ADDITIONAL VOLUNTARY CONTRIBUTIONS (AVCs) WITH PRUDENTIAL

In consultation with its investment advisor, Isio Group Limited (Isio), NILGOSC has completed its annual review of the Scheme's AVC arrangement with the Prudential Assurance Company Ltd (Prudential). The outcome of the review is summarised in this report and details the following information:

- Prudential's financial strength
- Views on the investment options with Prudential
- Recent developments and other useful information
- A performance report for all funds offered by Prudential (Annexes A and B)

Overall, there are no material concerns with the existing AVC arrangements and Prudential continues to be regarded as an appropriate provider. The performance of each fund is measured by comparing returns to a relevant stock market index or average for the relevant sector where no index is available. This index is referred to as 'the benchmark' throughout this report. If you are unsure of the funds in which you are invested, then please refer to your last Annual Statement from Prudential which was issued in August 2025, or you could also log onto the Prudential portal. The website can be accessed at:

Prudential's Financial Strength

Financial strength ratings describe the financial security characteristics of a company and its ability to meet its financial commitments. AKG Financial Analytics Limited (AKG), a specialist in the provision of ratings information and market assistance to the financial services industry currently applies an 'A' rating for Prudential's overall financial strength.

Defined as 'Superior' in terms of assessment of capital base, parental strength and typical fund performance achievements, an 'A' rating is the highest available.

Prudential AVC members are protected by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme (FSCS) for 100% of the value of their investment should Prudential default. In the case that a pension provider collapses, a claim would need to be made with the FSCS. The FSCS makes decisions within 12 months (as at 8 July 2025), but this process can take longer if it is a complicated case.

Views on the Investment Options

At 31 March 2025, the Prudential AVC arrangement had 13 funds available to new members, in addition to one lifestyle option. There are also several legacy funds that are closed to new members, but if you are already invested, you may still be able to make additional payments if you wish.

The fund range consists of equity, multi-asset, bond, cash, with-profits, faith-based and ethical funds, and includes both actively and passively managed funds. NILGOSC's investment advisor, Isio, believes that the existing fund range is fit-for-purpose with options spread across four broad asset classes: multi-asset, equities, bonds and money market, and notes that it will broadly meet the varied needs of most members.

Members should however note that there is a range of funds available, with varying costs, and members should regularly review whether their AVC investment selection remains relevant to their needs, particularly when nearing retirement.

Performance and Fees

Isio has summarised the performance data and fees of all the available funds within NILGOSC’s AVC Scheme in Annex A. For each fund there is an Annual Management Charge (AMC) applied by Prudential. This charge is calculated as a percentage of the value of units and varies according to the fund(s) selected. For example, if you paid £1,000 into a fund with an AMC of 0.75%, the annual charge would be £7.50. Funds which are higher risk, i.e. those seeking returns above the benchmark, typically have a higher cost. Some funds also have Further Costs, as defined in the Fund Guide. Further costs will depend on which funds your money is invested in and when any costs are calculated.

Longer-term performance of funds within the current range is provided in Annex B. More information, as well as Isio’s view of each investment option available at 31 March 2025 within NILGOSC’s AVC Scheme, is set out below:

Growth Funds
Prudential Dynamic Growth I Fund	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • These funds aim to deliver long-term growth by investing in a diversified range of assets both in the UK and globally. The Dynamic Growth I Fund will invest a maximum of 30% in equities, while the Dynamic Growth III Fund will invest 20-55% in equities. The remaining assets in both Funds are invested in bonds, property and cash. Allocations are based on rolling ten-year forecasts. • Both are ‘funds of funds’, meaning they are made up of a range of predominantly BlackRock passively managed and M&G actively managed funds, which reduces exposure to manager risk. Investments are managed across asset classes and across world markets with a focus on long-term investment potential. • Although returns for both funds have been negatively impacted by exposure to fixed-interest, absolute performance figures are positive and ahead of the respective benchmarks over all time periods shown in Annex B. Isio believes the performance is reasonable for a multi-asset fund and has no major concerns.
Prudential Dynamic Growth III Fund

BlackRock Aquila UK Equity Index Fund

- These funds are managed by BlackRock, which is a large manager with a strong culture of risk management combined with high quality systems, as well as a well-resourced and experienced investment team. Isio has not raised any concerns regarding BlackRock's investment management capabilities.

BlackRock Aquila Emerging Markets Equity Fund

- The three available BlackRock funds offer members access to all equity regions on a passively managed basis. Whilst performance is mainly ahead of benchmarks across all time frames for these funds, Isio would prefer tracking error for passively managed funds to be within 0.5%.

BlackRock Aquila World (ex-UK) Equity Index Fund

- Gross returns on the BlackRock Aquila UK Equity Index Fund are positive and have tracked the benchmark over all timeframes to within +/-1.0%. Returns are ahead of the benchmark over one-year and five-year periods, and the fund has met its performance objective of achieving a return consistent with the return of the UK FTSE All-Share Index.
- The BlackRock Aquila Emerging Markets Equity Fund performance has improved significantly, delivering a positive return of 7.9% and outperforming its benchmark by 2.1% over the year to 31 March 2025. The fund achieved its objective of providing a return that is consistent with the return of the MSCI Emerging Markets Index.
- The BlackRock Aquila World (ex-UK) Equity Index Fund delivered gross returns of 6.1% over the year, and double-digit returns over five years. It has a significant allocation to US equities (and hence large technology stocks, which overall, continue to perform very strongly) because of market capitalisation. The fund has broadly tracked its benchmark over all time periods shown in Annex B and has achieved its objective of achieving a return that is in line with the FTSE All-World Developed ex-UK Index.

Prudential Discretionary Fund

- This fund provides a multi-asset approach to investment, holding a mix of UK and overseas company shares, bonds, property and cash, but with a small element of listed alternative assets, primarily through other M&G funds or direct holdings. It is actively managed against an internal benchmark asset allocation set by the M&G Treasury & Investment Office.
- The Discretionary Fund is a 'fund of funds' where both active stock selection within the underlying sector funds, and asset allocation decisions are used to add value. Derivative instruments (for example futures or options, which are generally an arrangement between different parties to buy or sell a standard quantity of a specified asset on a future date at a price agreed today) may be used for efficient portfolio management.
- This fund aims to outperform its benchmark by 1.15% – 1.40% p.a. before charges, on a rolling three-year basis. Unfortunately, it has failed to achieve this objective over the three year period to 31 March 2025, as shown in Annex B.
- Isio has no concerns regarding the quality of the Discretionary Fund.

HSBC Islamic Global Equity Index Fund

- A passively managed diversified global equity fund which meets Islamic investment principles as interpreted and laid down by the HSBC Global Asset Management Shariah Committee, thus providing an option for any members restricted by their religious faith. The fund is seen as the 'industry standard' for Shariah compliant equity funds and will not invest in derivatives. The Shariah Committee monitors the Fund throughout the year and issues an annual Shariah certificate on the Fund's compliance with Shariah principles.
- The fund has delivered strong positive returns and has tracked its benchmark within a reasonable tolerance across all timeframes shown at Annex B. It has therefore met its objective of tracking the performance of the Dow Jones Islamic Market Titans 100 Index as closely as possible.
- The Fund continues to be the most prominent in the market, and HSBC has the largest Islamic Finance team of any international bank. Isio has raised no concerns over HSBC's investment management capabilities in this area.

LGIM FTSE4Good Developed Equity Index Fund

(Previously named the LGIM Ethical Global Equity Index Fund)

- A passively managed global equity fund tracked against the FTSE4Good Developed Equity Index and managed by Legal & General Investment Management (LGIM).
- Provides access to a fund investing in companies demonstrating good environmental, social and governance policies from developed countries around the world.
- The fund delivered strong absolute returns and has tracked its benchmark across all timeframes shown in Annex B. However, the fund objective of tracking the sterling returns of the FTSE4Good Global Equity Index to within +/-0.5 % per annum for two years in three has not been met.
- Isio has raised no concerns regarding LGIM as a passive fund manager, noting that this fund provides a sustainable option for members.

Prudential With-Profits Fund

- A diversified and actively managed portfolio of UK and overseas shares, bonds, property and cash, with a significant portion (c. 52%) of the fund invested in growth assets (i.e. equities and property) which are expected to produce attractive long-term returns.
- The gross return on the underlying fund for the 2024 calendar year was 7.3% which is an increase from 4.3% return in the previous year, reflecting an improvement in the underlying investments.
- A With-Profits fund seeks to smooth out the volatility of investment markets by declaring annual bonuses. The annual bonus rate is declared in March each year, along with the underlying returns on the fund over the previous calendar year. The regular bonus rate added in March 2025 was 2.5%, consistent with last year, and higher than it has been in the years previous (subject to a guaranteed minimum of 4.75% on contributions paid in scheme years ending before 15 March 1997 and 2.5% on contributions paid in scheme years ending between 15 March 1997 and 31 December 2003.)
- In addition to annual bonuses, profits are distributed by a final (or terminal) bonus, which makes up the difference between guaranteed benefits and the overall smoothed value of the AVC plan. Final bonus rates continue to be paid upon death or at retirement, however, the final bonus may vary and is not guaranteed. Further information on bonuses is available at <https://www.mandg.com/pru/adviser/en-gb/funds/with-profits/bonus-declaration>.
- AKG rated the financial strength and future performance prospects of the Prudential With-Profits Fund as 'Excellent,' in December 2024 and Isio believes the overall asset mix is well diversified across several asset classes and geographies. Although the level of UK equity is higher than typical Defined Contribution investments, it remains suitable, and all equity markets it invests in have delivered positive returns in recent years.

- Older policies contain valuable guarantees. Newer members without these guarantees should consider whether their investment remains appropriate for their needs.

Protection Funds

Prudential Index-Linked Passive Fund

- This fund invests in index-linked gilts with over five years to maturity, which could typically be used in the approach to retirement to lower the risk of a member's portfolio. However, as encountered again in the year to 31 March 2025, these assets can be volatile and as a result of market conditions, this fund fell by over 10.7% over the period.
- Isio has no major concerns over the quality of this fund as it has met its objective of matching the performance of the benchmark as closely as possible over the periods reported in Annex B.

BlackRock Aquila Over 15 Years UK Gilt Index Fund

- Invests in long-dated conventional gilts, which could typically be used in the approach to retirement by a member either: intending to purchase a level annuity to help protect purchasing power; or to lower the risk of their portfolio. However, as encountered again in the year to 31 March 2025, the underlying assets can be volatile, and capital remains at risk.
- The fund continued to suffer losses, returning a loss of -5.0% over the year. Performance was ahead of market returns by 3.2%, which is a high tracking difference. This tracking difference is due to the Prudential Series 3 unit-linked fund having a 2-day dealing lag compared to the underlying (BlackRock) fund. When figures are adjusted for this dealing lag the fund is tracking the index and therefore meeting its objective of achieving a return consistent with the FTSE UK Gilts over 15 years Index. Prudential confirmed that it has robust processes in place to check how its pension funds track their

	respective underlying funds but acknowledge it can cause confusion when the unadjusted figures are shown. On this basis, Isio is comfortable that the fund is performing in line with expectations. <ul style="list-style-type: none">• If you have chosen to invest in this fund based on a reduced appetite for investment risk, you may be concerned about the volatility exhibited and the losses incurred in recent years. You should review your investment choices and ensure that the funds selected remain suitable for your needs.
BlackRock Aquila All Stocks Corporate Bond Index Fund	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Invests mainly in investment grade sterling corporate bonds, which members can use when approaching retirement to lower the risk of their portfolio.• This fund has delivered positive returns of 3.1% over the year to 31 March 2025, which is broadly in line with markets before fees. Fund performance has tracked the benchmark over the long-term, despite some divergence over the year.• However, if you have chosen to invest in this fund based on your appetite for investment risk, you may be concerned about the volatility exhibited in recent years. You should review your investment choices and ensure that the fund selection remains suitable for your needs.

Prudential Cash Fund

- A low-risk fund, catering to those members intending to use all or part of their investment for cash.
- It primarily invests in secured interest-bearing deposits (reverse repurchase agreements) which provide collateral. Short-term cash loans are made in exchange for hold over some collateral, which is effectively bought and then sold back at a higher price to the borrower.
- The fund also invests in unsecured interest-bearing deposits, short-term UK Government bonds and Certificates of Deposit.
- It does not guarantee that the unit price will not fall and although the fund can be used to reduce the risk of a members' portfolio and manage volatility, long-term investment will potentially act as a drag on performance due to the low return prospects.
- The fund aims to perform in line with its benchmark (the Sterling Overnight Index Average (7-day)) before charges, on a rolling three-year basis. It has achieved this objective as reported in Annex B and as such, Isio has no concerns over the quality of this fund. As with all cash funds, returns have not kept pace with inflation and therefore this is unlikely to be a suitable long-term holding unless members have minimal appetite for investment risk or are close to retirement.

The in-house Prudential funds are managed by M&G, which is part of M&G plc. Isio regards M&G to be a suitable manager of the assets members hold in the fund due to their investment capabilities.

Specific information on each of the funds available can be accessed on the Prudential website at www.pru.co.uk/rz/localgov/northern-ireland/get_started.

Lifestyle Option – Global Equity Encashment Target Lifestyle

'Lifestyling' aims to provide long-term growth with automatic transitioning of members' investment into specific funds in the approach to retirement, in order to 'lock-in' accumulated investment growth. Doing so, may help protect against changes in the cost of turning an AVC fund into income and a lump sum benefit.

The lifestyle option available to NILGOSC AVC members is the 'Global Equity Encashment Target Lifestyle.' It consists of two phases:

Growth Phase: During which, the intention is to grow the size of a member's AVC pot by investing in funds which aim to grow at a faster rate than inflation.

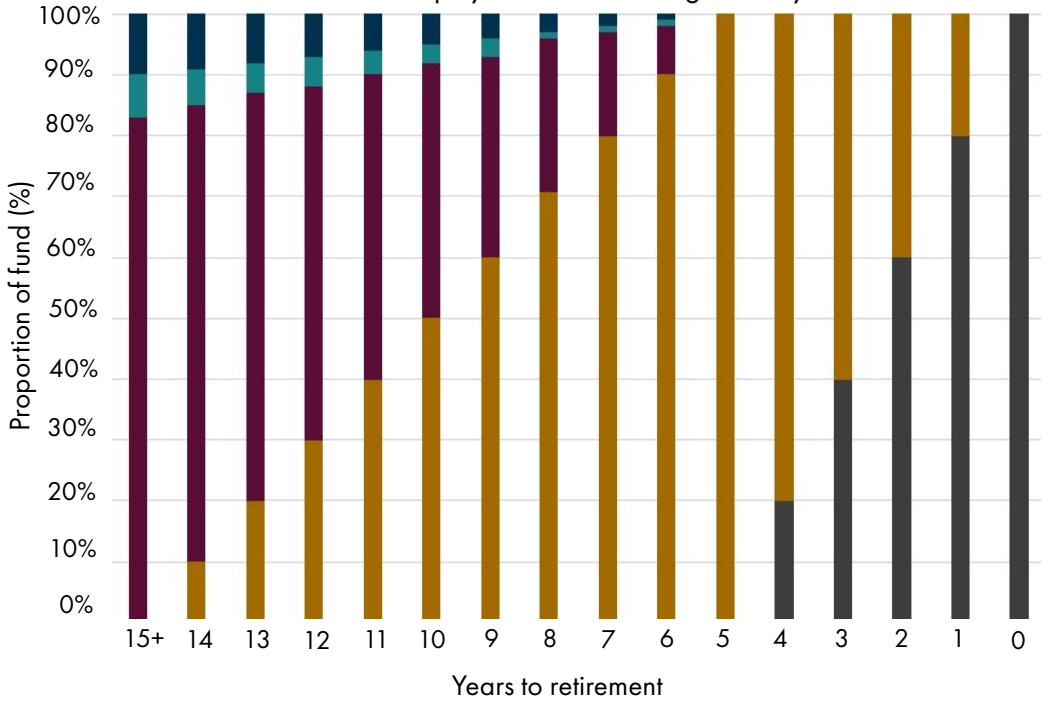

Defensive Phase: Investments are gradually switched into funds that could help reduce the risk of short-term falls in the value of pension savings for members approaching retirement. The switches happen automatically throughout the 15 years leading up to the member's selected retirement date.

The transition between the growth phase and defensive phase provides added diversification and therefore reduces investment risk as members approach retirement.

The Global Equity Encashment Target Lifestyle initially invests: 83% in the BlackRock Aquila World (ex-UK) Equity Index Fund; 7% in the BlackRock Aquila UK Equity Index Fund and 10% in the BlackRock Aquila Emerging Markets Equity Fund. The profile automatically commences switching 15 years prior to a member's selected retirement date into the Prudential Dynamic Growth III Fund and finally five years out, starts to switch into the Prudential Cash Fund.

The lifestyle option is illustrated in the chart below:

Global Equity Encashment Target Lifestyle

- Dark Blue - BlackRock Aquila Emerging Markets Equity Fund
- Green - BlackRock Aquila UK Equity Index Fund
- Purple - BlackRock Aquila World (ex-UK) Equity Index Fund
- Orange - Prudential Dynamic Growth III Fund
- Grey - Prudential Cash Fund

The switches between funds occur automatically. Charges will depend on which funds the members' money is invested in and when the charge is calculated. The funds within the lifestyle option may be subject to change in the future.

Isio considers the Global Equity Encashment Target Lifestyle Fund to be appropriate for members in terms of the level of risk taken at different points on the glidepath. A cash endpoint is a typical approach used for AVC's, although some members may wish to re-invest the proceeds post taking their money out of the fund. Isio has no concerns over the quality or suitability of the underlying funds.

Recent Developments and Other Information

LGIM Ethical Global Equity Index Fund Renamed

The LGIM FTSE4Good Developed Equity Index Fund was previously known as the LGIM Ethical Global Equity Index Fund, with the name change effective from May 2024. The Annual Management Charge, fund objective and underlying investments remain unchanged.

Changes to Prudential UK Equity Fund

Following a review of Prudential UK Equity funds, Prudential decided to make changes to the assets these funds invest in, to potentially generate better returns in the future whilst maintaining the same risk rating. The changes were implemented in a phased approach between 26 August 2024 and 30 November 2024.

The Prudential UK Equity Fund (which is closed to new members) is the only fund in the NILGOSC AVC Fund range that was affected. The asset mix was changed by making changes to the underlying funds, as set out in the following table:

Previous Underlying Funds	Current Underlying Funds
M&G BlackRock UK Equity Index Fund	M&G BlackRock UK Equity Index Fund
M&G UK Equity Growth Fund	M&G FTSE 200 Equity Index Fund
M&G UK Equity Dividend Fund	M&G UK Equity Fund
M&G Recovery Fund	M&G Mid Cap Equity Fund
M&G UK Smaller Companies Fund

The changes also included:

- Changing the underlying fund objective to allow the use of derivatives for effective portfolio management;
- A transition cost between 0% and 0.55%, for changing components, paid through the investment return you receive; and
- A reduction in the Annual Management Charge (AMC) from 0.65% to 0.61%, effective from 16 July 2024.

There has been no change to the fund's risk rating and little change to the investment objectives, other than it may now use derivatives for efficient portfolio management. NILGOSC's Investment Advisor at that time, Aon Investments Limited (Aon), noted that it regards the use of derivatives to be appropriate within the context of funds available to AVC members and believes this is in line with investment regulations. Aon also noted that the transaction costs were reasonable and that members staying in this fund for the longer term can reasonably be expected to recoup any transaction costs through the lower annual management charges and potentially better investment return achieved, but this will not be the case if you move your investments out of the fund soon after implementation of the changes.

You are not required to take any action as a result of these changes; however, members should regularly review whether their AVC investment selection remains relevant to their needs.

Market volatility and your AVC investment

Recent years have seen market volatility and economic uncertainty due to a range of factors and events, including the Ukraine crisis, central banks tightening their monetary policy in response to elevated inflationary pressures, and Donald Trump's return to the presidency. This uncertainty and market volatility affects investment values, and may concern members as when investment markets are experiencing volatility, the value of your AVC investment may go up or down, and each AVC investment fund will perform differently depending on the types of assets it invests in. If your AVC plan is invested in only one investment type it will be entirely exposed to the fluctuations of that particular type of investment.

If you are close to retirement, you should review the AVC funds you are invested in to ensure that you are protected from the possibility of big falls in value close to retirement.

If you are further from retirement and therefore a longer-term investor, expectations are that long-term growth should offset the impact of short-term volatility. However, you should ensure that your investments are suitable for your needs and investment risk appetite.

We understand that seeing short-term drops or fluctuations in your AVC investment value may be worrying, however it is important not to panic, and to instead consider volatility in relation to your longer-term intentions for your AVC investments. It is important that you are comfortable with the asset types you are invested in. You should review your investment choices in light of market volatility in recent years and ensure that they remain suitable for your needs. If you are unsure whether your selected AVC investments suit your needs, you might like to seek advice from a qualified financial advisor. If you do not have a financial advisor, you can find a list of advisors at www.moneyhelper.org.uk/en. Please remember that NILGOSC cannot provide investment advice.

Increase in Normal Minimum Pension Age

The normal minimum pension age will be increased from 55 to 57 from 6 April 2028. This is the earliest age that you can take your pension benefits including your AVC (apart from ill-health). It is expected that there may be some protections for existing members who could previously have taken their pension benefits earlier. At this stage we do not know what protections, if any, will apply to members of the NILGOSC Scheme.

Lump Sum Allowances and Lump Sum and Death Benefits Allowances

From 6 April 2024 the Lifetime Allowance (LTA) was abolished and replaced with two new allowances, a Lump Sum Allowance and a Lump Sum and Death Benefits Allowance:

- A 'lump sum allowance' – this is a cumulative limit of £268,275 on the tax-free part of lump sums paid at retirement. It will usually include the payment of pension commencement lump sums.
- A 'lump sum and death benefits allowance' – this is a cumulative limit of £1,073,100 on the total amount of the tax-free part of lump sums and lump sum death benefits payable to and in respect of a member. It will include pension commencement lump sums, tax-free elements of any uncrystallised pension lump sum and serious ill-health lump sum as well as the tax-free element of any authorised lump sum death benefits.

Most people will not exceed these limits unless they are high earners or have significant pension savings. There are transitional arrangements for benefits taken before 6 April 2024 and the new allowances may be higher if you have LTA protection. There is no longer a limit on benefits paid as a regular pension (weekly/monthly etc.) as they are subject to income tax.

How much can I pay into my AVC plan?

AVCs are a good way to boost your pension pot beyond what it otherwise may be, which may allow you to retire sooner. You can pay as much as you like into an AVC, as long as it does not exceed 100% of your salary less any other deductions made by your employer.

Environmental, Social and Governance Considerations

Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) factors can have a material impact on long-term investment outcomes. The fund managers' goal is to achieve the best possible risk-adjusted returns, whilst considering all factors that influence investment performance. Consequently, ESG considerations are incorporated into investment decisions wherever they have a meaningful impact on risk or return.

ESG is embedded in many of the managers' underlying investment processes, and many participate in a range of groups and initiatives to demonstrate their commitment to ESG. Each of NILGOSC's AVC fund managers (Prudential, M&G, BlackRock, HSBC and LGIM) are signatories to the United Nations supported Principles for Responsible Investment (PRI), meaning they voluntarily agree to incorporate ESG issues into their investment analysis and processes.

The NILGOSC range of funds includes two funds with a specific ESG focus: the LGIM FTSE4Good Developed Equity Index Fund (previously named the LGIM Ethical Global Equity fund), which tracks an index of companies prioritising strong ESG practices; and the HSBC Islamic Global Equity Fund, which makes investment decisions that meet Islamic investment principles set by HSBC's Shariah Committee. The principles include bans on interest, uncertainty and speculation, as well as a promotion of ethical investments. The fund provides an option for members who are restricted by their religious faith as well as those who would like to invest in this way.

Using your AVC

Deciding how to use your AVC plan is one of the most important financial decisions that you are likely to make, so it is important when you come to take your pension or you decide to transfer out, that you get guidance from Pension Wise to help you decide on the best option. Pension Wise is a service from MoneyHelper. It is a free, impartial service sponsored by the Government. As it is such an important decision NILGOSC is not allowed to proceed with your application until you tell us that you have either taken guidance from Pension Wise or you have chosen to opt out of that guidance. We will tell you when you need to consider taking this advice.

You can use your NILGOSC AVC fund at retirement in the following different ways. Some options are not available to all members. You can take a combination of the options that are open to you.

Tax-free cash

If you take your AVC at the same time as your main Scheme benefits, you can take up to 100% of it as tax-free cash. You can do this if your total lump sums from the LGPS (NI) are not more than:

- 25% of the total value of your LGPS (NI) benefits, including the AVC fund;
- £268,275; and
- £268,275 less any tax-free lump sums you have already taken from pensions.

Top-up LGPS (NI) pension

You can use some or all of your AVC fund to buy a top-up pension from the LGPS (NI). The top-up pension you buy will increase in line with inflation. Any dependants who are entitled to a survivor pension when you die will automatically get part of the top-up pension.

The amount of top-up will depend on your age and whether you are retiring on ill-health grounds. The pension income you receive is taxable and the rate of tax payable will depend on your overall income. NILGOSC's Pensions Administration team can provide a personal quotation to members who are interested in this option in the approach to retirement.

Annuities

You can use your AVC fund to buy one or more annuities from an insurance company, bank or building society of your choice. An annuity is a regular guaranteed income that is paid to you for life. Your chosen provider will take the AVC plan and pay you a pension in return. The amount of pension you are paid depends on your age, interest rates and whether you choose to include dependant's benefits.

Annuities have different features which may be of interest to you such as a guaranteed minimum payment period, improved terms if you are in poor health and annual increases. When you buy an annuity, you can usually take some of your AVC fund as a tax-free lump sum at the same time.

AVCs and flexible retirement

If you chose to pay AVCs before 1 February 2003, your AVC contract will end when you flexibly retire. You will have to use all of your AVC plan in one of the ways set out above when you take your flexible retirement benefits. If you chose to pay AVCs on or after 1 February 2003 you can choose to take all or none of your AVC plan when you flexibly retire.

Defer taking your AVC fund

If you left the LGPS (NI) before 1 April 2015, you do not have to take your AVC when you take your main scheme benefits. You can leave your AVC plan invested up to age 75 at the latest. However, you are then restricted to 25% of your AVC plan as tax-free cash subject to HMRC limits.

Transfer out your AVC plan

You can transfer your AVC fund to another pension scheme or arrangement, even if you are still an active member of the main Scheme. However, you must have stopped making AVC contributions and you cannot already have drawn some AVC benefits from that fund, for example through flexible retirement.

Different pension providers offer different options in relation to what you can do with your AVC, including the option to buy regular income (an annuity). By transferring out to one or more different pension arrangements you may be able to access options that are not available under the Scheme rules, such as:

- Taking several lump sums at different stages. Usually, the first 25% will be tax-free with tax payable on the rest.
- Taking the entire pot as cash in one go. Usually, the first 25% will be tax-free, with tax payable on the rest. Remember it is possible to take your entire LGPS(NI) AVC plan as a tax-free sum if you leave it in the Scheme and take it at the same time as your main Scheme benefits.
- A flexible retirement income. This is known as flexi-access drawdown. You are normally allowed to take a tax-free lump sum of up to 25% and then set aside the rest to provide taxable lump sums as and when, or as regular taxable income.

There may be tax implications associated with accessing your benefits in the ways described above. The income from a pension is taxable, and the rate of tax you pay depends on the amount of income that you receive from a pension and from other sources. The different options mentioned above have different features, different rates of payment, different charges and different tax implications.

If you are interested in transferring out your AVC you should contact NILGOSC to find out if it's possible and to initiate the process.

Protect your AVC Investment from Fraudsters

Sadly, the last decade has seen an increase in pension companies being formed to defraud the public of their pension savings, by encouraging them to transfer their pension savings to unsuitable or bogus schemes. Unfortunately, the cost-of-living crisis has led to an increase in these companies, with many using people's possible financial uncertainty to manipulate them into transferring their savings. NILGOSC has pledged to protect scheme members by following the principles of the Pension Scams Industry Group (PSIG) Code of Good Practice.

What should you look out for?

According to the PSIG, victims of pensions scams report receiving cold or unsolicited calls, offers of free pension reviews, offers of upfront cash and promises of high investment returns. These should be viewed as warning signs of a scam. You may even be introduced to these companies by a friend or family member who is also unknowingly being scammed.

You should be very wary of a scheme offering to help you release cash from your pension before you're 55. This is known as pension liberation and is almost certainly a scam which will result in you having to pay a tax bill of 55% plus other charges, and you could lose your entire pension pot.

And...

- Do not click links or open emails from senders you don't already know.
- Do not give out personal details like bank details, address, existing pension or investment details.
- Beware of adverts on social media channels and search engines.

How do you protect yourself?

- Reject Unexpected Offers - Chances are it is high risk or a scam. If you receive a cold call regarding your pension, the safest thing to do is hang up – the call is illegal and probably a scam. If you have been offered a free pension review, please be very cautious. Professional financial advice on pensions is not free. A free offer from a company you have not dealt with before is probably a scam.
- Check who you are dealing with - Is the individual or company offering you advice on transferring your pension qualified to do so? You can confirm this by checking the FCA Register <https://register.fca.org.uk/s/> and/or calling the Consumer Helpline on 0800 111 6768 to check the firm is permitted to give pension advice. There are many different areas of registration and its important the advice you receive is specifically on pension transfers. Do not give any personal information (name, address, bank details, email or phone number) to organisations or people before verifying their credentials.
- Don't be rushed or pressured into making a decision - This is another red flag of a possible scam. Take your time and make sure you are happy. This will be time well spent. If you make the wrong decision and transfer your pension to a scam scheme your monies are unlikely to be recovered. Better to make sure you are making the right decision at the outset.
- Get impartial advice - You have worked hard to build up your pension savings, so a little extra time spent to make sure any transfer is in your best interest is very worthwhile.

Advice and Guidance

As with any choice of investment, no one can predict with certainty which fund will offer the best return. When you compare Prudential's funds, you need to decide which investment is most suitable for your needs. Often this will depend upon the level of risk you wish to take and how far you are from retirement.

Prudential has produced a Fund Guide for NILGOSC, which is specific to the NILGOSC AVC Scheme. The guide will provide you with full details of the funds available, their objectives, charges, and Prudential's risk rating of these funds to help you select funds most suitable for your needs. The guide is available to review on the Prudential website at www.mandg.com/dam/pru/shared/documents/en/avck0512.pdf.

Any investment decision is a personal one, reflecting your financial circumstances, approach to investment and attitude to risk. Please note that NILGOSC and its professional advisors are not authorised to give you financial advice. If you are in any doubt about your investment decisions or how to use your AVCs, then we recommend that you seek guidance and/or independent financial advice to help you decide which option is most suitable for you.
